

LET THE WIND BLOW 2003

single-channel video, 4:13 min loop, still image-sequence on DVD

Let the wind blow" shows a man and a women on a panoramic viewing site on a mountain. They stand motionless looking towards a city located in the valley and only some blasts in their clothing makes them seem alive. The landscape is changing in the run of the hours – day becomes night and night becomes day in no time.

installation view

